

Good Neighbors – What does it take to be a good neighbor?

Frankie Wood-Black, Ph.D., REM, MBA

Northern Oklahoma College, 1220 E. Grand, PO Box 310, Tonkawa, OK 74653

Abstract

To be involved in the chemical enterprise as an educator, developer, manufacturer, transporter, or disposer, one must have the communities' "license to operate." This means that those involved must be cognizant of their individual, institutional, and social responsibilities to safely and ethically participate in their specific role within that enterprise.

License to Operate

What does it mean?

- Social

Acceptance within and by the local community and stakeholders

- Corporate

Within the guidelines of the Corporate Social Responsibility

- Governmental

Have the appropriate permits and systems to comply with the applicable regulations

Constituent Groups

Why do you need it?

RISK

Points of View

