

Q4 At my company, SDS's are available (mark all that apply)

Answered: 137 Skipped: 2

ANSWER CHOICES	RESPONSES
In a binder located in my immediate work area	49.64% 68
In a central library	15.33% 21
In both a central library and nearby satellite library	9.49% 13
Via an online access system	82.48% 113
Other (please specify)	9.49% 13
Total Respondents: 137

#	OTHER (PLEASE SPECIFY)	DATE
1	worker based near workers immediate work area	12/10/2018 9:08 AM
2	EHS based by request from EHS	12/10/2018 8:48 AM
3	manufacturer based online search by manufacturer	12/7/2018 3:25 PM
4	worker based in a binder accessible for all work areas. Integrated with the inventory system that works use to locate chemicals	12/7/2018 12:34 PM
5	worker based At every Department and Lab of the organization.	12/7/2018 12:25 PM
6	electronically back-up thumbdrive that could be used on a laptop computer	12/7/2018 12:18 PM
7	worker based Lab specific safety manuals	12/7/2018 12:10 PM
8	both EHS and work area worker based groups scan and maintain an online record of SDS in addition to having them in a binder	12/7/2018 10:58 AM
9	worker based I only know where the MSDS binder is.	12/7/2018 10:46 AM
10	worker based Use manufacturers' sites to view SDS	12/7/2018 10:31 AM
11	worker based It depends on the lab. Many use online access, but some will have binders of SDSs. Most will use online access and have the high hazard chemicals' SDSs readily available.	12/7/2018 9:16 AM

SDS Usage Survey 2018

12	EHS based	Paper copies are kept in EH&S office.	12/7/2018 9:14 AM
13	EHS based	through a contract with RightAnswer via ucsds.com	12/6/2018 6:34 PM
